1. Introduction

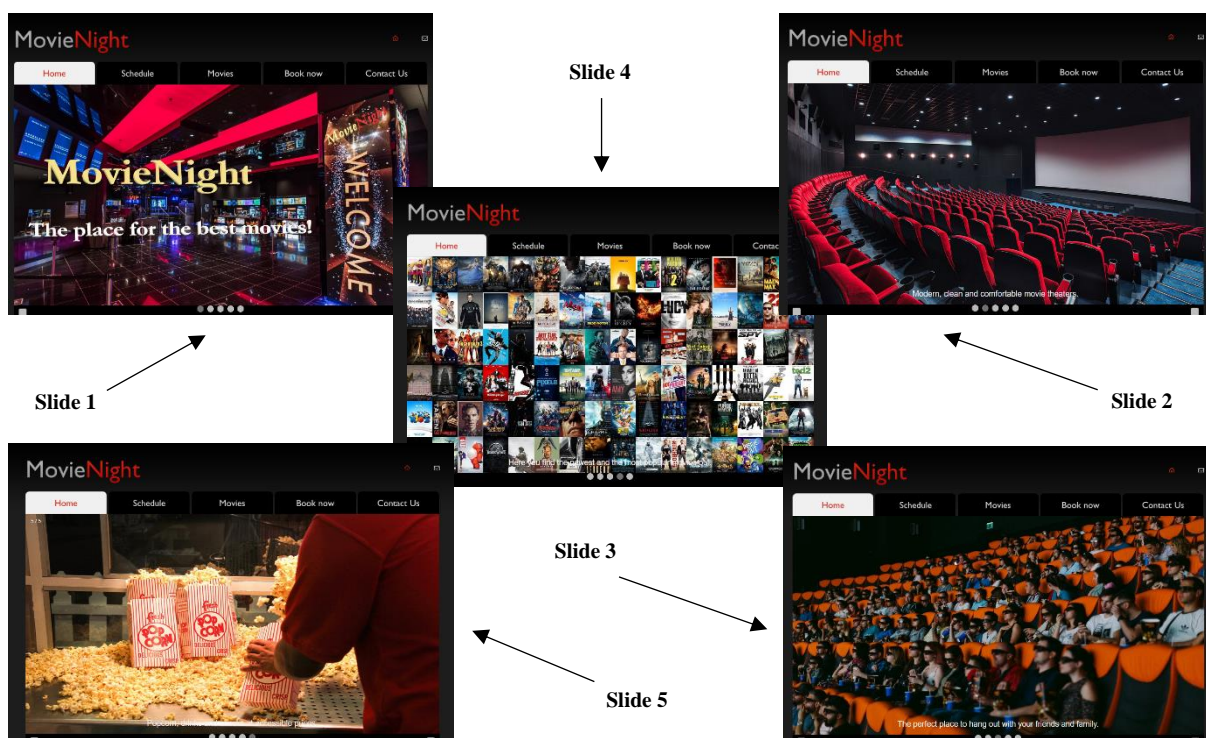

The purpose of MovieNight is an informative one. It is the website for a movie cinema, where people can come and look up what movies are available at the moment, at what hours, and can also make a reservation and even contact us.

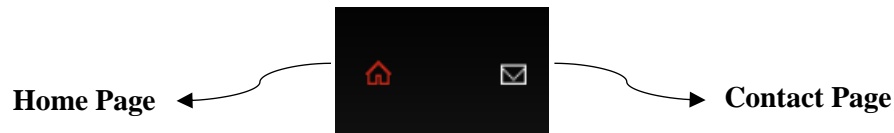

2. Structure

2.1. Home Page

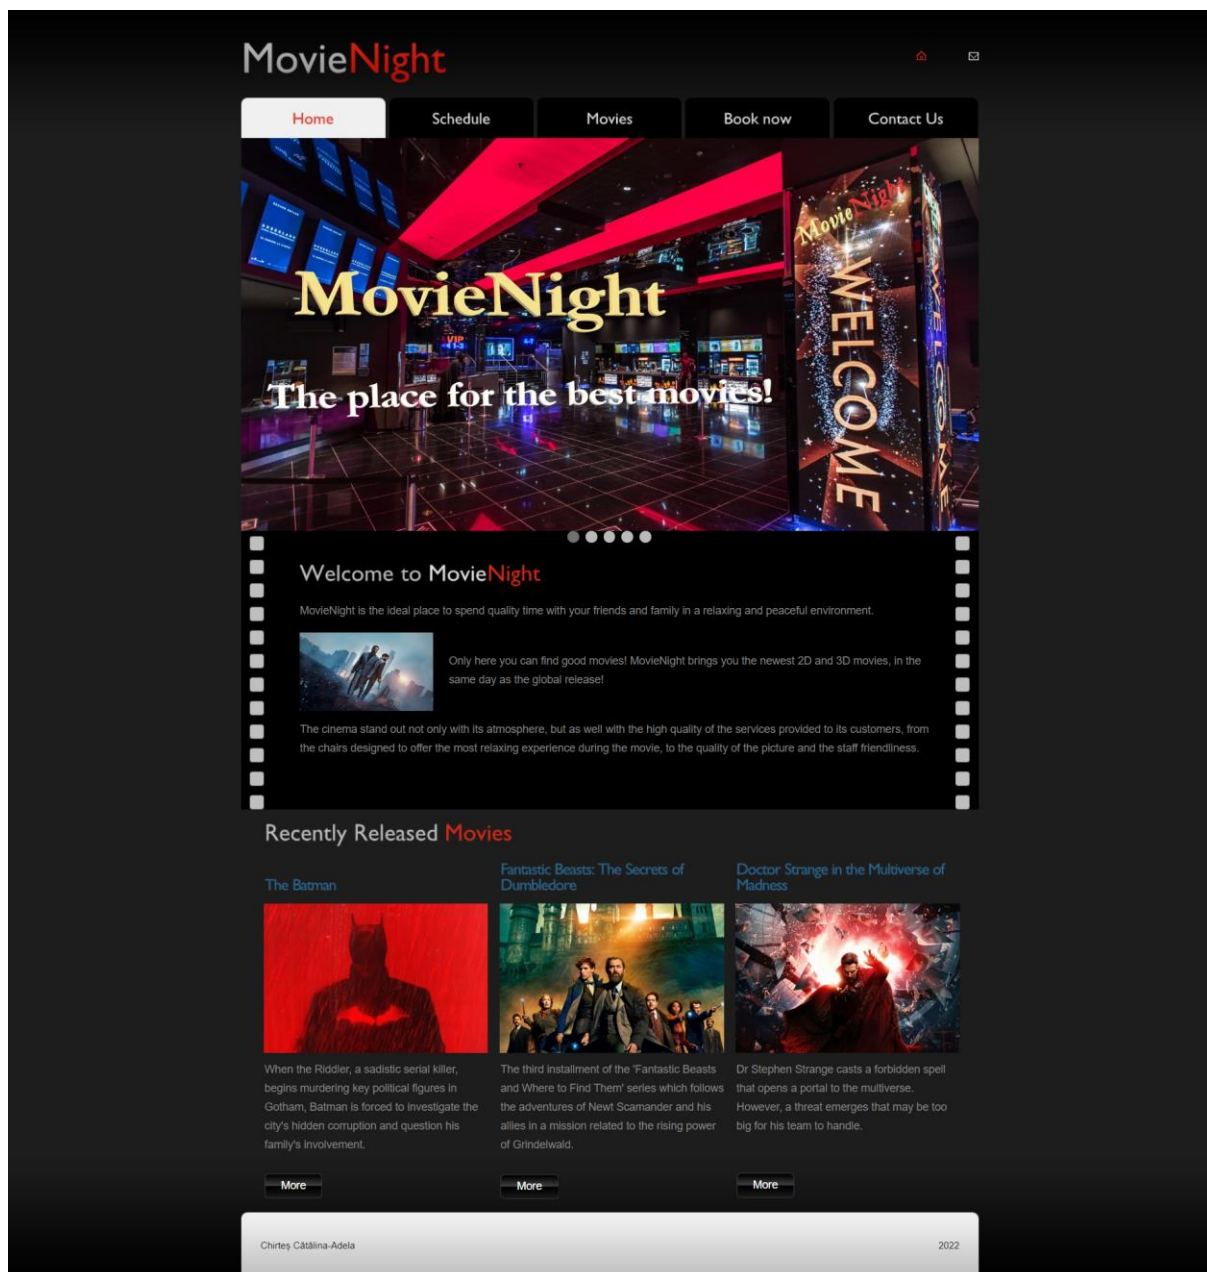

The home page is an informative one, starting with a slideshow of photos. By scrolling down the page you will find some details about the movie theatre and also a section of Recommended Movies where you will see the synopsis of the 3 highlighted movies.

We also have a menu with two buttons in the top left corner of every page that sends us quickly to the home page or to the contact page.

2.2. Navbar

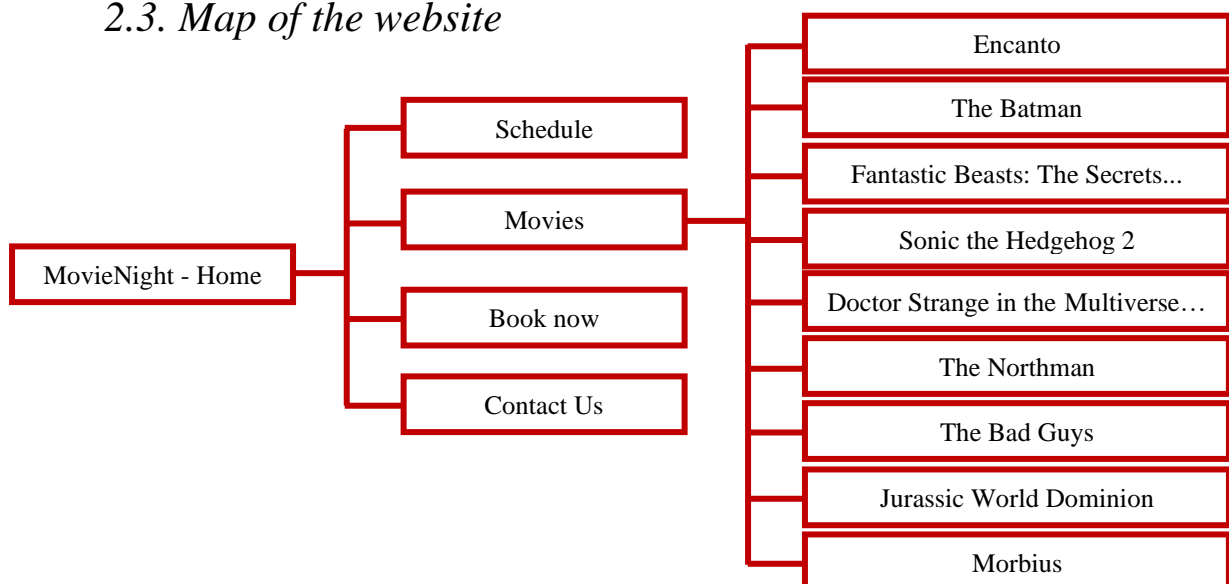

The navbar, placed at the top of the page, facilitates a fast access to the other pages from the website. It can be viewed and accessed on every page in the site.

It has the following five buttons that link the following pages:

- The Home button sends the user to the home page
- The Schedule button sends the user to the page where are displayed general information about the movies and also their showtimes
- The Movies button sends the user to a page with all the available movies
- The Book now page sends the user to a page where he can make a reservation
- The Contact Us page sends the user to a page with a contact forum, a map and some contact info about the cinema

2.3. Map of the website

2.4. Schedule

The Schedule Page is the place where are displayed the showtime for the movies, the available languages, to which audience is addressed, and also the duration of the movies. All these info are placed in a table and by pressing the title of a movie you are redirected to the page of that certain movie.
